PRESIDENT WRITES

Dear Fellows, Members and Associates,

I am sure all of you would have had an interesting academic session at Bangkok. Looking forward to meet you again at the midterm conference at Jaipur and the annual conference at Calicut.

This issue of our journal carries articles of great importance especially in the present context of Super Bug and the abuse of antibiotics. Health policy makers should wake up and make policies for the country. I think global agencies like FDA and similar agencies elsewhere could come together and make policies in line with the World Health Organisation to avoid such situations.

I extend my season's greetings and wishes for all of you.
