PRESIDENT WRITES

Dear Fellows and Members,

The topic of this issue is a problem commonly seen in all age groups and in different socioeconomic strata. In high socioeconomic strata the formation of stones occurs in the upper urinary system; and in lower economic strata it occurs in the lower urinary system.

In short, it enunciates that there is a likelihood of nutrition being involved as an etiological factor. A lot of work has gone into the etiology of urolithiasis, still more work is needed to be done towards unraveling the etiology of this disease; this will help in designing prevention strategies.

Our annual convention is taking place at Chandigarh. I am sure all of us will have a good meeting at Chandigarh.
